Presidents Message

January 2011

Hello fellow members;

We come to the end of 2010 with a lot accomplished this year. The last dinner meeting was great success with good attendance. Next year we promise to have more interesting topics at our dinner meetings to keep the numbers attending our meetings. It is obvious to me that the speaker drives the attendance.

In the last dinner meeting Lambton College asked for our help to get their students into the work force. I know it has been difficult for students to find work. I have seen resumes from the previous year and some of those students still do not have work and here we are with another year of graduates coming into the work force looking for employment, If there is any thing your firms can offer please contact myself or any of the executive and we will get you in touch with the right people at the college to help you select the right fit for you company. The college offers great incentives to hire these students so take advantage of these offerings.

I don't have any big enlightened news this month. Our country is now a great country of diversification we enjoy the traditions of others in the world. I know there are several nationalities that have celebrations at this time of year. I was going to try and list the proper sayings for all of them and quickly realized that I would forget some one and probably insult others. So being the careful politician I thought about the best approach and "HAPPY HOLIDAYS" seems to cover all bases. So I wish you all Happy Holidays and that you and your families enjoy your time together and you remain safe during the season.

Sarnia Section President

Editorial:

When we begin a new year we always let our mind wander back into the past and assess what we have accomplished during the past year or during a period of time. Yes Sarnia ISA won awards and speaking of awards we won the Golden Award for a small section for the year 2010. Congratulations Sarnia. Going back to reminisce. We have accomplished much to our efforts, Production of a high quality Reference Guide, Successful table top shows, Spectacular seminars. All these were accomplished with volunteers and the training they have received from participating as leaders in the ISA. I guess I can say that the leadership training the executive committee and chairmen receives is good. In reflection to this, all I can say is any member who wishes to augment his management training should consider participating and getting involve with the executive committee. The ISA section needs executive and program members. perhaps as a new year goal you should consider joining the executive committee. You will satisfied of the rewards and training that you receive.
